EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Shoemakers' Strike.

NEW YORK, August 1[illegible].—Although the Crispens in some of the smaller establishments are on a strike it is not believed the movement will become general. Prominent manufacturers state that they know of no movement to reduce wages on the part of employers. Members of the Crispen society say they do not think employers will make an effort for a reduction at the present time when the busy season is just approaching.

The striking painters deny that they have taken measures to prevent painters from the Western States coming here. The strike is to enforce the eight hour rule.

The Petroleum Market.

NEW YORK, August 12.—There was much excitement to-day among petroleum dealers, caused by a heavy decline in the prices of crude and refined oil in the face of the fact that shipments from this city this year up to the 9th inst. have reached the unusual amount of 78,000,000 gallons. The chief cause of the decline is said to be an [illegible] in supply, resulting from the produce of eight new wells in Pennsylvania, which are yielding an average of 500 barrels per day.

Death of a [illegible]

Geo. N. Sanders, who was conspicuous on the Confederate side during the war, died very suddenly this morning at his residence on Seventh street of heart disease.

Van Buren to be Investigated.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The Special Commission have sent to the Department of State a full report on the irregularities charged against Gen. Thomas F. Van Buren and his replies thereto, together with the correspondence, evidence and reports connected therewith. The correspondence is voluminous and touches upon all points involved in the management of the American department, such as reception of money by Van Buren for the privilege of erecting bars, restaurant and various other things [illegible]. The [illegible] Commission find the Commission to Vienna has been managed corruptly for personal purposes to the great detriment of the American department and in violation of American honor, and has exposed the United States to national humiliation at Vienna and throughout the world. The evidence shows no taking of money by any member of the Commission with the exception of Gen. Van Buren and Mr. Meyer.

The [illegible] River [illegible]

Additional reports from the scene of the Wawasset disaster now place the number of lost at 71. An investigation into the cause of the disaster will begin to-morrow.

Explosion in a Coal Mine.

SCRANTON, Pa., August 12.—A fearful explosion of fire damp occurred in the Central Coal Mine, in this city, this morning, through neglect of one of the bosses who left a door to a worked-out chamber open. The [illegible] approached with naked lamps and the gas ignited, and a terrific explosion occurred. Evan Humps was so badly burned that his recovery is doubtful. The concussion threw Patrick Hanaghan through the door, injuring him internally. William Bedloe was also burned, but he will recover.

Killed in a Thunderstorm.

SCRANTON, July 12.—A large number of women and girls were on a mountain near here to-day gathering berries when a thunderstorm arose, and twenty-one berry pickers took shelter in an abandoned shanty. Almost immediately afterward, the building was struck by lightning, and two women, Mrs. Mary [illegible] and Miss Caroline [illegible], were instantly killed. Seven others were seriously injured, but they will recover.

15 Women Want to Graduate in Medicine.

NEW YORK, August 13.—According to foreign files received the women medical students who have been rejected at Edinburg are trying what the Society of St Andrews will do for them. In their application they point out that they have 15 women at least prepared to be graduated at once. They will bear all costs of obtaining a supplementary charter if necessary, and that they are also prepared at once to hire or build [illegible] for a [illegible] school, and are also in position to arrange for a complete course of lectures on all required subjects of medical [illegible] which are taught at St Andrews, if the University authorities will sanction such arrangements, and will admit them to examination and graduation.

English Roman Catholics on a Pilgrimage.

Following the example of their continental brethren, says the Pall Mall Gazette, English Roman Catholics are now arranging a pilgrimage to Paray Le Monial, a small village some distance from Paris which has acquired its reputation as a center for pilgrimages from the fact that, according to Catholic belief, just 300 years ago our Savior appeared there to the blessed Margaret Alocague, and intrusted to her a message to propagate the worship of the Sacred Heart. The English pilgrimage is being organized under the auspices of a very influential committee, at the head of which are the Duke of Norfolk and Earl of Denbigh, the Secretary being Lord Walter Kerr. The pilgrimage is advertised to start from London on Tuesday, September 2d. The pilgrims will reach Paray Le Monial on Wednesday. Having performed their devotions on Thursday they may return to London by Friday night or Saturday morning.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Captain Jack to be Hanged.

NEW YORK, August 12.—A Washington special says proceedings of the Court Martial in the case of Captain Jack and other Modocs were received at the War Department to-day. It is believed that the Court has found them all guilty and sentenced them to be hanged.

Heavy Storm in New York.

LONG BRANCH, August 13.—Passengers for New York have returned and report the railroad track washed away on the New Jersey Southern railroad between here and Philadelphia. The storm is the heaviest experienced here in twenty years.

Arrested for Murder.

LOUISVILLE, Pa., August 13.—George Mars has been arrested for shooting Edward Cosgrove, who was found dead in the street at Shenandoah this morning.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The Attorney General has decided that no spirituous liquors can be introduced into the Indian country without an order from the War Department, and that the jurisdiction of that Department is exclusive of all other authorities.

Rear Admiral L. M. Goldsborough, commanding the Washington navy yard, will take command of the Asiatic station early in November.

CANADA.

Shipwreck.

QUEBEC, August 12.—The ship Oregon, owned by Ross & Co. of this city, was wrecked with her valuable cargo at Point Richie, in the Straits of Belle Isle.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Rumor of Another Marine Disaster.

LONDON, August 13.—It is reported to-day that the ship Abeona, from Montreal for Glasgow, was run down and sunk by the steamship Alabama from Glasgow for New York, and that the wreck which it was first thought to be the Alabama was the Abeona.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—A party of eight Japanese members of the Judiciary of that country arrived by the last steamer. They are being conducted to-day through the various Courts and offices of this city. Several of the party speak English fluently, and all dress in American costume. They expressed regret that Mayor Alvord was not at his office as they desired to see the chief men of the city government.

The city is very quiet to-day. Up to noon there has been only one arrest by the police. The weather is warm.

The decrease in Chinese immigration of late is generally remarked. Only 178 arrived on the Quang Se. This is due, probably, to the representations made by the heads of the six companies relative to the excitement and trouble about their countrymen in this city and State and advising that no more should come here.

There was a boisterous meeting of the Republican County Committee last night equal to that of the Democratic Committee on Monday. Threats of violence were made and after adjournment pistols were drawn. No one was hurt, however.

The police rescued two Chinese girls from Ah Yet. They were brought out on the Quang Se. Ah Yet said she paid $155 each for them in China, and when they arrived here the Hip Yee Tong Society demanded $80 from her as their share, which sum she promised to pay last night. The girls have been sent to the Mission House of Protection. Others being told they were free to go where they pleased went with Ah Yet.

No quorum at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night. It will meet next Thursday.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 13.—The bark Wetterhorn [illegible] for Portland yesterday, to load wheat for England, making the fourth vessel [illegible] within the past two [illegible]. [illegible] to load old wheat which was in store at Portland, comprising about all the surplus left of last year's crop.

The certificate of incorporation of the Olympia [illegible] was filed in the County Clerk's office to-day. Objects, mining and doing a general transportation business in the States of California and Oregon and Washington Territory, and constructing a railroad and electro magnetic telegraph line in connection therewith, running from a point at or near Tenino to Budd's Inlet, near Olympia, W. T.—20 miles. Trustees, George S. Dodge, Charles N. Felton, N. Gardner, T. Lawton and John N. Goodwin of San Francisco, and Edward S. Salomon, of Washington Territory. Capital stock, $1,000,000, of 10,000 shares.

[illegible]

LOS ANGELES, August 12.—A light shower of rain fell last evening, succeeded by a steady rain, clearing up toward noon to-day, with showers this afternoon. One and forty one-hundredths inches of water had fallen up to [illegible]. The storm was confined to the limits of this city on the north but reached southward over the whole of Southern California and Arizona. The effect in this vicinity will be injurious to farmers, who have a large amount of grain lying in the fields, and which will certainly be damaged to a considerable extent. Grapes will probably be destroyed by rot.

SACRAMENTO, August 13.—Wm. E. Mulligan was this morning in the Police Court held to answer on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, in shooting J. E. Strain.

Wm. [illegible] was arrested at Battle Mountain for the murder of Martin Gersbach in Contra Costa county. He will be brought down to-morrow.

MARTINEZ, August 13.—The grand jury indicted Thomas Redfern for manslaughter in killing M. J. Duffy in June last.

The wife of Watkins Pr[illegible] was thrown from her horse at Somersville yesterday and instantly killed. She leaves a husband and four children.

Henrietta Suayras, of Nortonville, was seriously burned yesterday by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. She is still alive though no hopes are entertained of her recovery.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, August 13.—The case of the Overman S. M. Co. vs Dardanelles S. M. Co., which has been on trial in the District Court for the [illegible] three days, went to the jury this evening. After being out about ten minutes the jury returned a verdict in favor of the Overman company.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, August 13.—The agricultural editorial excursion party arrived from the East last night. To-night they were engaged in looking at the various points of interest in the city. They will remain till Saturday.

Last night Wm. Kirby shot Tom Lynch in the back. Both are sports. The latter will probably recover.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

[illegible] Town Site [illegible]

S[illegible], August 13.—A petition for injunction [illegible] by Renton, Smith & Co., of Port Blakely, to stop work on the new town plat of Tacoma now being surveyed and cleared for the terminal city of the Northern Pacific Railroad. It appears from the papers filed in this [illegible] that the petitioners have a lease of that land which has sixteen months yet to run, with the privilege of all the timber upon the [illegible]. The land was sold to Gen. McCarver, subject to the lease, and was conveyed by McCarver to the Lake Superior and Puget Sound Land Company. An interesting fact [illegible] the Railroad Company do not own a foot of land in or about Tacoma. Mr. Renton states that on examining the records, in order to ascertain the parties against whom to bring suit, he found the title in the name of the Land Company.

"[illegible]" ON SPURGEON

Mr. C. H. Spurgeon has said and done many things in his time in furtherance of what might be described as "jocular religion and comic salvation." But at the late anniversary of the London Missionary Society at Exeter Hall, he outdid himself. Speaking of prayer he said: "Oh for more prayer! I had an illustration of its power the other day in Italy. In the hotels there are little ivory buttons in the wall upon which you put your finger. They communicate with electric wires which ring the bells down stairs. A friend came in to take tea with us and I put my finger on the button, but nobody came. 'Now' said my friend, 'I will put you up to a wrinkle—keep your finger on the button; if you only just put it on it rings the bell, but if you keep your finger on the bell will keep ringing down stairs.' Well I did so, but even then the waiter did not come. At length my friend said: 'We have a couple of bedrooms here, I will go into one, and your friend can go into the other, let us ring all three bells, and then we shall fetch up all the waiters in the hotel.' So we put our fingers on the three buttons and kept them there, and, I warrant you, the passage was soon full of waiters tumbling over one another. They thought the whole house was on fire. We simply explained that as the ringing of one bell did not do we thought we would ring all three, and found it a capital plan, but if they would only come more quickly another time we would do it no more. Every time a man prays he rings the great bell in heaven. If two of you agree as touching anything concerning the kingdom, it shall be done unto you. There is no resisting it. If every man and woman here would begin to put their fingers upon the bell the electric communication between earth and heaven it would awake the very angels and bring them down with untold blessings upon the church and the world." We cannot help hoping that the laughter and applause which greeted the comparison of holy angels roused and wakened up by prayer to the idle waiters tumbling over each other at an Italian inn does not express either the piety or wisdom of the general body of subscribers to the London Missionary Society.—London Times.

The Postmaster-General is certain to renew his recommendations in favor of a postal telegraph in his next annual report. He has sent an assistant in the capacity of a Commissioner to the Vienna Exposition, who is accumulating all the statistics and information possible upon the subject. The Commissioner is the same gentleman who has furnished most of the matter of which the previous recommendations of the Postmaster General have been made.

GENERAL NOTES

Pittsburg, Pa., it is said [illegible] have a new Democratic daily paper.

An in[illegible] is worth $400 in Boston [illegible] man who [illegible] him.

A [illegible] which [illegible] at Church [illegible], Michigan, fell on a man and killed him.

Saginaw City, Michigan, has compromised with the protesting liquor dealers by reducing the [illegible] from $100 to $50.

The [illegible] of Mr. W. R. Hayes in West [illegible], Vermont, set her house on fire recently by reflecting the sun upon the clapboards.

A Tennessee Democratic paper is very positive that Hon. Horace Maynard will be the Republican nominee for Governor of that State in 1874.

A majority of the Mississippi Democratic State Committee have expressed themselves against the policy of nominating a Democratic State ticket this fall.

The members of a lodge of Good Templars in Springfield, Mass., [illegible] that the owner of the hall occupied by them refuses to lease it to them again.

An adventist down in Maine who looks for the end of all things earthly early in August has mortgaged his farm and is having what he calls a good time on the proceeds.

Some of the Indiana Democrats, including, it is said, Gov. Hendricks, are not satisfied with the Indianapolis Sentinel, and they have determined to start a new daily in that city.

It is at the New Hampshire State Agricultural Fair that Gen. B. F. Butler is to deliver the address. Rev. Mr. Murray is to fill that office at the New England Agricultural Society's Fair.

The N. Y. Times says: Ex-Congressman James H. Slater, of Oregon, says that he received $220 less back pay than he would have been entitled to as mileage, and that he intends to keep all he got.

Demands for large damages for injuries are getting common in these hard times. A small child had his arms cut off by a locomotive in Iowa recently, and its parents have sued the company for $15,000.

A whole county in Connecticut is excitedly discussing whether it is morally right for one church member to sue another. Perhaps they had better turn it about and ask whether it is right for a member to be sued.

Rev. C. A. Graber, pastor of the Lutheran church in Meriden, Conn., is lecturing in Massachusetts, against prohibition. He favors the use of wine and beer, but explains that the right to use does not give the right to abuse.

Senator Alcorn opposes Gen. Ames for Governor of Mississippi and he is said to have written a letter advising that the Democrats make no nomination, intimating that he will run himself if no one else is found to do the job.

A man who was discovered asleep among a lot of tombstones in a stone-cutter's yard in Binghamton said on being awakened, that he had come in to buy a monument for himself, and having picked out one made up his mind he would try it one night before purchasing.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean asserts that while an old lady lay ill with meningitis at her home in Laporte, Ind., recently, her son procured some boards from the cellar and proceeded to make a coffin in the same room. She begged him to desist, but he refused and the coffin was about finished when she died.

A correspondent of an Eastern paper complains of the conduct of a young lady of good standing in society, who, at a late murder trial, attended daily, rushing eagerly to secure the foremost seat next the prisoner, staring him almost out of countenance and weeping hysterically as points were brought against him.

Canadian papers refer with pride to the continued success of the savings department connected with their Postoffices. Last year the amount of deposits was $2,306,918, and the cost of maintaining the banks has for the last five years averaged somewhat less than one-half of one per cent on the balance to depositors' credit year by year.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser says that the largest shipment of live stock ever made in one day over any railway in the world was made recently over the New York Central and Hudson River, being 225 cars. An idea of the importance of this trade which is yearly increasing may be gained from the fact that the estimated value of this day's work is $422,600.

An overland traveler writes to a Milwaukee paper long complaints of the dangers incurred from gamblers, thieves, and desperadoes throughout the entire journey. He says: "Their operations cover the whole field, and spotters dog the steps of persons leaving San Francisco, and by means of the telegraph and other agencies only known to the initiated the desperadoes along the line are advised of any game that may be passing over the road. One gang, numbering from four to ten, usually rides only from one station to another, when they are relieved by others, one, however, remaining quietly on board all the time for observation."

PERSONAL NOTES

Joseph Arch, the English labor agitator, is coming to this country.

New Orleans, despairing of getting rid of Collector Casey, asks to be declared a free port.

An old man named Blanchard, worth $25,000, died at Sandusky, and willed that only $7.25 should be paid for his funeral.

Monseigneur Mermillod has appealed to the Federal Assembly against his expulsion from Switzerland and asked for a termination of his illegal exile from his birthplace and proper home.

Mr. Serjeant Simon, M. P., seems to be an English Sir Boyle Roche. He lately began a speech on the Judicature bill by saying: "I cannot keep silence without saying a few words."

Bishop Lachat, the Swiss infallibility champion, was lately shamefully treated on a Lake of Lucerne steamer by a party of Swiss choral singers. He was jeered at and abused, and the only passenger with pluck enough to denounce the rioters was an American woman.

Garibaldi is again out in eulogy of the Paris Commune and the International Society. He says: "If the devil were to found a society for the purpose of putting down sovereigns and priests I would promptly enroll myself in its ranks." The priests probably believe that Garibaldi has already joined such a society.

The S. F. Chronicle says: Arrangements have been made with Rev. John Lord, LL. D., the great historical lecturer, to deliver a course of five lectures before the Mercantile Library Association, consisting of one lecture on each of the following subjects: Michael Angelo (The Revival of Art); Gustavus Adolphus (The Thirty Years War); Cardinal Richelieu (Absolutism); Queen Elizabeth (Woman as a Sovereign); Oliver Cromwell (Civil and Religious Liberty).

CARING FOR AN UMBRELLA.—An incident that befell a recent traveler on a New Hampshire railroad is thus told by the Portsmouth Chronicle: He had occasion to get out at the [illegible] New Market Junction, leaving his umbrella lying across the seat he had vacated. Returning [illegible] he seated himself in the seat ahead, and as he resumed his sitting one of them said: "You may pass me that umbrella if you please." [illegible] "I will take charge of it," said she, and the accommodating gentleman passed it [illegible] over to the lady. Then a pause. "Now if you please," suggested the gentleman, "I will trouble you to return my umbrella. It is a silk [illegible]. I paid just $10 for it and I [illegible] very much to part with it." The passengers by this time had become interested in the conversation, and as the umbrella was returned to its owner the lady who had shown such a peculiar interest in it was observed to flush deeply, while the owner regretted that he had found it necessary to rebuke her.

LATEST NEWS ITEMS

London journals of the [illegible] contradict the report that Prince Arthur is betrothed to Princess Thyra.

We read that Joaquin Miller, when living with the Modocs, was called "[illegible]," and that this means "The Moon-Gazer."

A special dispatch to the Times from Coffeyville, Kansas, says that information was received at that place recently that the Cherokee Indians were having a bloody war among themselves at Caddy's Bluffs, twenty-five miles south of there.

A letter from the Yellowstone expedition dated July 30 says that the steamer Josephine has been successful in passing the rapids and obstructions near Powder river reported by Gen. Forsythe, and is proceeding up the Yellowstone and will supply the expedition with forage. The Captain is of opinion that the river can be navigated to the Big Horn.

In Iowa the law has been changed so that pardons can be granted only by the Legislature on the recommendation of the Governor. This is no doubt a better plan than that now established in most of the States, where the discretion lies in an official who often yields to [illegible] importunity and to class influence that favor which he knows is not due to justice.

A noble historic scene, the surrender of Gen. Pillow to Gen. Smith, is thus described by the Newark Advertiser: Pillow came into Montgomery afoot and alone, sat down on a curb stone and shook the gravel out of his rough army shoes, and then walked into Smith's office. The ceremony was simple. He said, "How are you, Jack?" The reply was, "Good God, Gid! is that you? Have you had your breakfast?" To which Pillow responded, "No, and I haven't a dollar to pay for one."

A railroad war commenced on the 6th inst. between the Maine Central and Boston and Maine Railroads, the former refusing to make connection with the latter. The latter thereupon issued notice that they would make such connection at all hazards. In the meantime the Maine Central removed all their share of the rolling stock, locomotives, etc., to the intended point of connection, besides moving a large wooden shop to the spot obstructing the place. The battle promises to be a lively one, but both factions at noon to-day were quiet.

New Hampshire possesses a portrait gallery of her Governors as follows: John Sullivan, Josiah Bartlett, John Langdon, Jeremiah Smith, William Plummer, Samuel Bell, David L. Morrill, Benjamin Pierce, Matthew Harvey, Samuel Dinsmoor, Sr., William Badger, Isaac Hill, John H. Steele, Anthony Colby, Jared W. Williams, Noah Martin, Nathaniel B. Baker, Ralph Metcalf, William Haile, Ichabod Goodwin, Nathaniel S. Berry, Joseph A. Gilmore, Frederick Smyth, Walter Harriman, Onslow Stearns, James A. Weston and E. A. Straw.

The New York Tribune publishes the following: Mr. Whalley, a member of the British Parliament, who has arrived here to obtain testimony favorable to the Tichborne claimant, told a Tribune reporter that a man appeared in England about three weeks ago and represented himself to be the steward on board the vessel which picked up the boat from the wreck of the Bella containing the claimant, Sir Roger. Mr. Whalley invariably terms him a man who gave evidence of speaking the truth, and corroborated important testimony already received.

The S. F. Chronicle of Aug. 8th says: At the request of Mayor Alvord, Messrs. Richard Patrick & Co. have started a subscription for the Portland sufferers, heading it themselves with a donation of $500, which promises to realize a handsome amount. Seven thousand dollars have already been forwarded, two thousand more are in hand, and it is assumed more will probably be collected to-day, so that the second remittance will bring it up to 10,000. Even that sum will not be the figure at which the subscription will cease. To Mr. Patrick a great deal of credit is due for the activity he has exhibited in the work of benevolence, and the citizens who so generously responded to the call deserve an equal meed of praise.

The New York Herald of August 5th says that among the important railroad improvements in progress and one which largely concerns the commercial relations existing between New York and San Francisco, is a company now being organized in London on the basis of extraordinary grants from the Honduras Government. The object is to insure without delay the completion of an interoceanic railroad from Porto Caballos on the Atlantic coast, to the Bay of Fonseca on the Pacific ocean. The length of the entire line is 2,300 miles, 70 of which have been completed and are now in operation. By this route, it is said, the distance from New York to San Francisco will be shortened nearly 1,200 miles as compared with the Panama route. It is also stated that an agent of English capitalists interested in the undertaking will arrive in New York in a few days for the purpose of conferring with the Pacific Steamship Company with a view of offering inducements to the same to land their steamers at Porto Caballos and Fonseca on the completion of the road. Should this arrangement be effected it will make a difference of four days in the time required for the transportation of freight between New York and San Francisco as compared with the Panama route.

A $25,000,000 LAND DISPUTE.—The excitement aroused a few months ago about the ownership of the valuable coal lands in Schuylkill and Columbia counties, Pennsylvania, has been revived, and a correspondent writing from Shamokin says: The Sheriff of Northumberland county has been busy in serving some eighteen writs of ejectment covering some 800 acres of coal land, [illegible] value being [illegible] lying partly in Schuylkill and Columbia counties and supposed to be worth $20,000,000. The suits are commenced by Hon. Francis Jordan, of Harrisburg, who holds these lands in trust for parties living in New York, and is interested also as administrator of the estate of the late Gov. Geary. The deeds were recorded here in April last. The plaintiffs claim to hold direct from the Commonwealth, having paid for these lands, and that the title has never been lost to them. The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company claims these lands by tax title and also by what is known as the Grant title, commencing over twenty years after the Morris title. The plaintiffs allege that the tax title is good for nothing and that the Supreme Court has already declared the Grant title to be fraud. [illegible] the Fidelity Insurance Trust and Safe Deposit Company [illegible] in trust for the benefit of British capitalists [illegible] July 7, 18[illegible], [illegible] $[illegible],000,000. Mr. Jordan [illegible] Judge Shipman [illegible] in May last and caused several buildings to be erected and leased. The railroad company sent a large body of men who surrounded, upset and burned up the houses and took forcible possession, creating quite an excitement.

[illegible] PROF. WATSON.—Prof. James C. Watson, of the University of Michigan, [illegible] of the Observatory at Ann Arbor, has received a gold medal awarded him by the Institute of France for valuable astronomical discoveries. The Ann Arbor Courier gives a description of it, and says: The medal was awarded to Prof. Watson [illegible], but on account of the war its completion and transmission was delayed. It was coined at the French Mint, and [illegible] was the [illegible] to its fineness and [illegible] francs [illegible] the Bank of France [illegible] the Institute [illegible] the medal. It is [illegible] On one side [illegible] Minerva [illegible] half [illegible] surrounded by the words "Institut Imperial de France" [illegible] "Academie des Sciences [illegible] James Craig Watson [illegible] 186[illegible]."

THE TERRITORIES

The first number of the Pacific Tribune [illegible] at Tacoma is before us. It looks every way just as it did when published at Olympia.

The Silver City Avalanche says: Our mines are all looking better than ever, the mills are pounding away night and day, and business of every description is prosperous.

A horse thief who got away with about twenty-five head of horses, but was caught and lodged in jail at Silver City recently, got away with himself last week by digging out under the walls of his prison.

A steamer from Freeport one day last week took from the mill at that place to Tumwater 55,000 feet of lumber for W. N. Horton, the water pipe manufacturer. As there is a mill sawing every day at Tumwater, taking lumber to that place seems like carrying coals to Newcastle.

The Tribune says the site selected at Tacoma for a wharf by the Railroad Company, instead of being at the head of the bay, or two miles, two miles and a half, or three miles from the present town site, as over and over again falsely stated by up and down Sound papers, the distance is not greater, we should judge, than one single mile.

The Tacoma Tribune says divine worship was largely attended in that "city" last Sunday. The morning services were the first ever held in the church (Episcopal). The only dedication of the building was the commencement of the work of the Lord in it by Rev. Mr. Bonnell. That gentleman deserves all praise for the energy he has displayed in its erection and is yet displaying in its completion and furnishing. Dr. Atkinson and Rev. Mr. Crowl preached in the tent.

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH AND THE CONFESSIONAL

Mr Speaker said Sir Boyle Roach I smell a rat I see him floating in the air But mark me I shall nip him in the bud It might be considered somewhat irreverent to apply Sir Boyle's mixed metaphor to the recent religious discussion in the House of Lords on the petition of four hundred and eighty Anglican clergymen to the convocation for the establishment of auricular confession by the licensing of confessors, but there is one noble Lord at least whose nostrils, always sensitive to encroachment on the religion of his fathers, perceived the rodent and made valiant effort to "nip him in the bud"

This petition of four hundred and four score clergymen of the Established Church means much It would not be a matter of surprise, should it stir the religious sentiment of England to its profoundest depths It is on the contrary, a remarkable fact that so far this bold aggression on the ancient creed has provoked little hostility Not only is the confessional asked for, but extreme unction, the consecration of oils and other forms and ceremonies, are included In the debate on the subject matter of the prayer, which arose in the House of Lords recently, Lord Oranmore moved for a committee to consider the petition He offered to prove what confession in the Anglican Church meant, by a book prepared for the use of clergymen, from which "he could not read because it was so indecent that to read it aloud would be to abuse the privilege of the House, and render him liable to imprisonment under Lord Campbell's act." This was putting it quite as strongly as the occasion demanded. Oranmore next proceeded to cite Roman Catholic authorities to prove that "a regular stream of converts was continually flowing from ritualistic churches to the Church of Rome" This tendency, "the noble lord thought, was not to be regretted, except in its workings among the lower classes The aristocracy of England had come to regard membership in the Catholic Church as a [illegible] fashion, against which 'the arguments of common sense are as little availing as against any of the other freaks of the reigning mode—as crinoline yesterday, chignon to-day" Oranmore was particularly severe on the latter class, whom he denominated "fools playing with edge tools"

In reply, my lord the Archbishop of Canterbury did not attempt to controvert the [illegible] of Lord Oranmore concerning the constant flux of converts to the Romish faith The remedy, he thought, lay not in revoking the licenses of the ultra clergymen, but rather in the exercise of more caution by the patrons of church livings, who should present no clergymen of known extreme views The Primate seemed to be at a loss to meet the unexpected address of his opponent The [illegible] in by a small number of peers. [illegible] seemed to be a general disinclination to handle the awkward facts. It developed one thing which stands [illegible] above all minor [illegible] of discussion that there is within the Church of England a strong element of disintegration which, while it works with silent power, is yet unwilling to confess itself apostate

SCHEME FOR A GOVERNMENT RAILROAD

One of the most significant of the recent movements looking to cheap transportation and an equitable adjustment of the relations between railways and the producing classes, is an organization formed [illegible] the [illegible] of New York The object of this association—which [illegible] the grocers' board of trade is to [illegible] of trade to Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, already formidable rivals of New York City, and to secure for producers and consumers throughout the country an economical system of transportation A New York exchange says it is probable that in furtherance of this desirable object an appeal will be made to Congress to authorize the building by Government of a national railway from New York to Chicago, the road to be of the very best class, with steel rails and double track throughout, and to be devoted exclusively to the forwarding of freight This scheme [illegible] was [illegible] by Ben Butler, in his Fourth of July oration at Framingham The New York Herald says of the project

It is suggested that private [illegible] or individuals shall be allowed to place their own rolling stock on this road and to pay toll therefor, precisely as the canals are operated. By this means the actual cost of transportation would be discovered, which is now an impossibility The Government would have to keep the road in repair, as the canals are now maintained by the States to which they belong Practically the [illegible] highway would be to the people of the whole country what the Erie canal has proved to the State of New York—a means of growth and wealth out of all proportion to the first cost great though it be

The [illegible] consider that the question of the hour is Shall the Government run the railroads, or be run by them? Practically three fourths of the State and national Legislatures are controlled by the enormous railway interests of the country, and it is deemed important to press the issue in all points at once, whether the people at large shall be further oppressed by railroad rule or whether that form of tyranny shall be [illegible] ended while the chance for doing it remains Active preparations are making for a public demonstration by the New York merchants at Cooper Institute, when the case will be formally submitted for popular examination

We had thought the New York Herald had a monopoly of ingenious devices for advertising its wonderful energy and enterprise about which we are thoroughly posted in its every issue But the Tribune tells us of a scheme which must challenge the hearty envy of the Herald and the virtuous indignation of the Blue Laws A minister in Springfield Mass wanted an unusually large contribution the other Sunday He told them that if they would pungle very liberally he would tell them how they could make from $30 to $40 in three or four days Of course they [illegible] After he had made sure of a donation four times the ordinary size he read to his astonished audience a list of lectures printed by the Tribune remarking that they were worth $45 in book form yet they could get them for 50 cents This was told with considerable gusto but we are left to imagine the look of consternation and disgust which must have settled on the features of those hearers who were not intimately interested in Prof Barker on the solar spectrum

BLUNDERS OF THE TELEGRAPH

Very remarkable are some of the freaks of the lightning relay We have before us the Chicago Tribune of August 4th containing telegraphic reports of the recent conflagration in this city Says the Tribune

The fire commenced in the rear of the Metropolitan Hotel Nearly all the city bounded by Yamhill, North Second street, west of Columbia street south of river and east is in flames

We can't imagine what kind of an indiscretion could compel a street to change its name After that we might expect almost anything Accordingly a later dispatch says

The Portland fire is fully under control Twenty-three blocks are a total ruin It originated in the furniture store of Hurgren & Schneider where no fire or light was used It was doubtless incendiarism The St Charles Hotel the largest building in the city and two stores, were the only buildings saved on Front street The St Charles Hotel is damaged ten thousand dollars, Walker's sash and door factory was destroyed Loss $80,000 The Oregon Iron Works were on fire five times

Front street was pretty thoroughly swept and garnished but we should say on a rough estimate, that the above statement is incorrect There remain on Front street many fine structures, aggregating in value over $1,250,000.

One house stands on First street in an open space

We can certify to that report But if we wanted to be particular, we would add that there are hundreds of splendid edifices in addition to the one mentioned, among them the finest market on the Pacific coast Other portions of the report are equally startling in orthography and correctness

A second fire started six blocks from the original conflagration The incendiary was caught by the police and taken to jail Samuel Lowenstein, of the firms of Lowenstein & Co and Emil Lowenstein & Co, furniture was killed Johnson, a fireman, fell from a ladder and was hurt He will recover Ed Bockensto, City Treasurer, was dangerously hurt

The losses are Burgren & Schendler, $18,000 M Sellers C S Silvas, Love's Hotel Hackee and Stillme $5,000 each Walker's mill, Reese & State, $20,000 each.

Mr Lowenstein will doubtless grieve over the melancholy news of his death and Mr Bockensto, we suppose, in his elation will feel called upon to sue for a quo warranto Some of the New York papers of the 3d inst contain blunders quite as ludicrous as those above cited

The New York Tribune points the moral to Ann Eliza Webb's enormous divorce suit Her claim for $1,000 a month and $200 000 alimony is simply preposterous it thinks She knew what she was doing when she preferred to be the sixteenth concubine of this aged reprobate to enjoy what small portion of his fortune and his honors might fall to her rather than to be the wife of some decent young fellow such as are always to be found in that region. She has committed a crime and now she seeks to profit by it. This should not be suffered Webb is entitled to a suit against Young for bigamy Let her bring this action before she "assumes the dignity of an outraged wife to attempt legal blackmail upon her paramour The Tribune closes the article with the following healthful suggestions as to the proper mode of repentance for bigamous people

This is only another form of the everlasting tendency of the race, to try to avoid each one, the consequences of his own sin There are few people who, in repenting, do not try to make the repentance profitable There are very few who manfully take off their jackets to receive the due chastisement It is not in the just economy of nature or of heaven that sin, even when repented of, shall be as if it never was When people have committed a [illegible] crime or a great [illegible], they must pay for it. A man who has lived a dishonest life cannot free himself from the trail of its consequences by merely resolving to be honest in future A woman who has sinned against faith and purity, can never repent so deeply that the stain of the early sin shall leave her soul The purer her after life, the more poignant her recollections will be These hundreds of unhappy women in Utah have made a grievous mistake, some with better, some with worse motives. They should struggle out of their mire as fast as they can But they forfeit sympathy by trying to pick the pockets of their paramours as they fly

Sometimes a change of name is a very desirable thing, especially if it be accompanied by a change of heart, which latter we grieve to say, is a rare occurrence This is just what vexes the [illegible] of New York politicians who would wed the grizzled old patriarch of Democracy to the blushing young maiden of Liberal Republicanism. All things are ready not only are Barkis and the betrothed "willin," but the Barmecide's feast of fat offices has been spread ever since the betrothal of July 1872 And yet the nuptials are delayed by a provoking little difference of opinion namely by what name shall the couple be known in their new estate? The bridegroom would have it "Liberal Democracy, the bride insists on Liberal Republicanism A correspondent of the N Y Tribune writing from Saratoga the scene of the late Liberal Republican State Convention says that although the Liberals and Democrats agree heartily on a broad anti-administration platform each strenuously objects to being "swallowed up in the other, or to sinking its identity or party name It is considered improbable that any arrangement can be made for calling a united convention this fall Perhaps the crafty old bridegroom feels a little sore over the remembrance of the November coquetry wherein the Democratic heart was broken Or to return to the other figure will nothing short of a Kilkenny cat tragedy—a mutual consumption satisfy the sulky bridegroom and his pouting bride?

The New York Times discusses the recent fire in this city and remarks pitifully There will be some temporary inconvenience perhaps but Portland, like Chicago Boston and its namesake in Maine, will soon rise from its ashes and be ready to burn down again We have marvelous aptitude in building cities so that they may afford ready food for the flames Perhaps in the remote future when we have less money and more caution we will take ordinary care to prevent these great conflagrations which have become so common as to excite little remark But with the unread lessons of Chicago and Boston under our eyes it is too much to hope that this calamity on the Pacific slope will cause an immediate reformation After the destruction of a few more cities and towns we may hope for a discussion of the prevention and control of fires so intelligent and earnest that it will serve some good purpose

Our dispatches say that Captain Jack is doomed to be shot So be it But before Captain Jack shuffles off his immortal coil it would be a work of mercy if some reporter say of the New York Herald's would get the Modoc chieftain's ante-mortem statement of his nationality and the correct spelling of his name Otherwise these two questions will continue as they have begun to vex the perturbed public mind The latest development in Modoc history is the serious effort of one Rev R Watson a Lutheran minister to make them the lineal descendants of a band of Welshmen who came to this country about three hundred and twenty years before Colum- [illegible] into Wal[illegible]

In a mass meeting of Farmers' Clubs held in Winchester, Illinois recently, Mr B [illegible] Smith gave utterance to some sentiments which did not look well in print In speaking of [illegible] legislation by the last General Assembly [illegible] must be hung [illegible] and his [illegible] legislators out of town on a rail [illegible] said something about a garment of tar and feathers The corruption of politicians called from Mr Smith the declaration that some remedy must be found or some of them [illegible] politicians would dangle from the trees around the country The dispatch from which we quote kindly adds that the speech is the subject of general comments We should suppose it would especially among the politicians who are in a very receptive mood just now

The Albany N Y Journal explains the recent numerous telegrams concerning the young Walworth's pardon in this wise "A short time since a letter signed by a single individual asking for Walworth's pardon, was sent to the Governor and as is the custom in all cases of application for pardon, whether from the penitentiary State prison or gallows the evidence in this case was sent for But there has been no further action and no such expression of opinion as would justify the Governor in taking up the case with a view to its serious examination

AN OUTRAGE IN UTAH The Salt Lake Tribune of July 23d publishes the following remarking however that the case is one which many Mormons regard with abhorrence and denounce in strong terms

In the year 1862 Mrs —— came to Utah from Hitchfield England, leaving her husband in that country and bringing with her two daughters The husband a Mormon followed in 1863 and found on his arrival that his spouse had in the interim married a man living at West Jordan but had left him and was seeking to procure a church divorce—which she afterward obtained About two years after this (now about eight years ago) she married a man nearly 70 years of age, herself being about 37 or 38 This old man and interesting family live in the city When the oldest of the two daughters referred to reached the age of 14, the old man through the interposition of the unnatural mother married her also, and she now has two children by him Not content with sacrificing one of her daughters to the unhallowed embraces of her own [illegible] and a man now on the verge of the grave, she has recently compelled the other daughter, a mere child of 16 to submit also, notwithstanding her tearful pleadings to be spared the dishonor

Those who have seen Sothern play Lord Dundreary will readily recall his conundrum why does a dog wag his tail, and the answer "because if he did not the tail would wag the dog." That is what is the matter out in Ohio The Democratic dog in that State not having been in a wagging humor for some time the Allen county tail is going to wag the dog See it?

THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIAL

Of leading citizens of Oregon resident in Salem attest their appreciation of the wonderful success of Col Reed's conscientious labors

SALEM Oregon August 9 1873

F D TRUE Esq Dear Sir Having had the pleasure of witnessing the panoramic views of scenes in Washington Territory, Oregon and California which were painted by Col C A Reed of Salem and exhibited by yourself on Thursday night last (Aug 7) at the Opera House in this city we feel it is due to you to say that having visited a great portion of the places represented by the painting we find them true to nature and such accurate representations of the reality that they are recognized at once We cannot speak in terms too commendatory of the manner in which the paintings are executed No description with pen or tongue can more than approximate to their real merit nothing short of an actual view of them can give one an adequate idea of their real excellence No person having a desire to see the important places you have selected—many of which are already famous not only in the history of the Western States but in that of the Nation and who is not possessed of the time or means to visit the scenes, ought to allow this opportunity to pass without visiting your exhibition and there learning, for a small sum what would otherwise cost a long journey and considerable outlay of money And those who have visited the scenes these paintings represent will find themselves amply repaid in seeing them upon the canvas to which they have been so skillfully transferred by the master hand of Col Reed

As citizens of Oregon we feel disposed to thank you for the zeal you have manifested in thus causing to be represented upon canvas the beauty grandeur and magnificence of the scenery of our State so little known abroad thus drawing the attention of the older States to our great Northwest in a manner more accurate and impressive than the words of the most skillful historian or eloquent orator Very respectfully your ob't servants

Insure against Loss by Fire in the

Phoenix of Hartford,

BECAUSE:

FIRST—IT HAS COMPLIED FULLY WITH THE Oregon State Law

SECOND—Its contracts in Oregon are backed, under a re-insurance contract by its own and the united assets of the Home Ins Co of New York and the North British and Mercantile Ins Company of London aggregating over $58,000,000 00, gold, offering the best security of any Fire Insurance Company or Association in the world

THIRD—It can carry large risks, as its policies are re-insured by the above mentioned Companies so that the PHOENIX alone can carry the same line that all three companies would take separately

FOURTH—It requires but one set of proofs in case of loss, thus giving the security of three Companies without the trouble of dealing with separate Corporations

On these solid merits, viz Capacity to carry the largest risks the amplest possible security the simplest adjustment in case of loss and the prompt and equitable payment of all just claims

THURSDAY MORNING AUGUST 14, 1873

CITY.

ADJUDGED INSANE.—An old man named Charles Gilday was examined before Judge Hamilton on Tuesday on the charge of insanity. He was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum. Gilday is aged about 60 years and is a tinner by trade. Although so crippled in his lower limbs as to be compelled to hobble on crutches he has made a livelihood by working at his trade for years. Before the fearful fire of the 2d he owned a small shop on Front street, but everything, building, tools and stock, were all swept before the fiery tide and the poor old fellow left destitute. The heavy loss, together with the thoughts of his dependent condition so preyed on his mind as to undermine the foundation of his reason. For days after the fire he did nothing else but mope about the streets and dejected and inconsolable, muttering incoherently to himself all the time. His pitiable condition and the sad state of mind at length attracted the attention of the police. He was furnished temporary lodgings, and an attempt made to restore him to reason. Efforts proved unavailing, he grew worse and was taken before the County Judge, with the result before mentioned.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE.—Notwithstanding that the splendid building belonging to the city and occupied by Protection Engine Co. No. 4 was totally destroyed on the 2d inst., the Company have manifested the right sort of pluck and evinced a very commendable spirit of enterprise under the discouraging circumstances. Before the city has had time to gather itself up from the ashes of her recent calamity and taken initiatory action towards the erection of another engine house, the Company have gone bravely and spiritedly ahead and are rebuilding. Ground has been leased for a limited time, lumber furnished gratuitously, and a temporary wooden structure has speedily arisen from the blackened ruins. This building is 45x25 feet, one story high. It is, as a matter of course, intended only for temporary use until such time as the city shall feel willing and able to repair the great loss sustained by reason of the destruction of the former. In a few days the wooden building will be ready for occupancy, when the steam engine will be housed.

LAID UP.—At present the Oregon Steamship Company have no direct steamer on the line between Portland and Victoria. The decrease in freight and travel caused by the diversion of the same via the Northern Pacific Railroad has rendered it necessary to draw off one steamer. The California, which has been on the Sitka-Portland route since the loss of the steamer George S. Wright, has been hauled off for the present. The Gussie Telfair, having undergone thorough repairing at Victoria, has been placed on the northern route. She will run directly between Portland and Sitka, touching at intermediate ports coming and going. Yesterday morning the California was towed down to the lower sawmill, where she will remain for the present.

BE CERTAIN.—We are requested by the postmaster to notify the public that WEEKLY OREGONIANS must have two cents instead of one in order to get through the mails. Whenever the postage is found to be insufficient on copies of this paper, the postmaster is instructed to throw them one side. To get safely through the mails and reach their destinations, copies of the WEEKLY must be pre-paid. The postal law requires that each copy must have two cents. Persons who send papers away are requested to bear this fact in mind. A little care in this regard will save much trouble and disappointment. Be certain to attach sufficient postage to copies sent abroad if you do do not desire to have them detained.

LUSUS NATURÆ.—We are informed that a singular freak of nature is to be seen on the farm of D. P. Buxton, on the Columbia Slough, about ten miles east of Portland. It is nothing less than a cherry tree bearing apples. The tree bore cherries this season and the apples are now on the tree and can be seen by the incredulous, who can satisfy themselves that there is no hoax about the matter. We are assured that the tree has not been grafted. This wonderful freak of nature can be seen at the office of DeLashmutt & Oatman on next Friday.

ON THE WAYS.—On Monday morning the steamer Rescue took the place of the Fannie Troupe on the lower river. The latter boat was taken to the bone yard, where she will be generally overhauled. In a few days she will be drawn on the ways, the deck recaulked, the cabin repainted, the boiler and engine overhauled, and the hull probably replanked. The Troupe will not be placed on the line again until she is placed in the best possible running trim, which will be in the course of six weeks.

SUPERIOR LIME.—Mr Joseph Bachman received a few days since six barrels of lime from the Excelsior Lime Company at Roseburg. This company are operating on quite an extensive scale, and can furnish 1,000 barrels of lime in ten days. This lime is being used in the Capitol building at Salem and the University building at Eugene City. It is giving general satisfaction and is said to be fully equal, if not superior in quality, to the article imported.

RETURNED.—The ship Middlesex started to go to sea on Tuesday morning. The tug hitched on, and the vessel started seaward. She was compelled, however, to return to the wharf after proceeding a short distance. The difficulty was that the ship's crew was not complete, and the sailors on board refused positively to start for sea until the full complement were obtained. She is lying at Astoria awaiting a few more tars.

SOLDIERS.—Fifty-two soldiers arrived on the Oriflamme, and were sent yesterday to Vancouver. These soldiers came directly from San Francisco and were ordered here for recruiting purposes. This Company will be used to fill up the depleted ranks in the several Companies of the 21st Infantry. From Vancouver they will be distributed among the various military posts of Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho Territories.

NEW LINE VESSELS.—The schooner Superior, of the Star line of packets, will be placed on the line between this city and Puget Sound ports as soon as her cargo is discharged. She will be due in a few days. Other vessels of this line will enter the trade, which will no doubt prove a source of profit to the owners, as they have reduced the rates of freights, and therefore may anticipate considerable patronage.

TO LOAD WITH BOLTS.—In a day or two the barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg will go down the river to Astoria. At that point she will receive a cargo of bolts for Honolulu. We learn that a number of passengers will embark for a round trip to the Sandwich Islands and back. Already as large a number of persons as the vessel can accommodate have spoken for passage.

DIED.—By the S. F. Bulletin of the 8th inst., we learn that Minerva Norton, wife of Colonel Charles H. Larrabee, died in that city on the 7th inst. Col. Larrabee is well known in this city, having been a former law partner of the late Lansing Stout. Many friends in Portland and elsewhere will deeply sympathize with Col. Larrabee in his recent sad bereavement.

FORWARD GARIBALDI.—These barks, one destined for Melbourne and the other for Hongkong, having completed loading with lumber at the lower sawmill, were towed down the river by the steamer Gussie Telfair to Astoria. In a few days these vessels will be off on the stormy main bound for their respective destinations.

FOR THE NORTH.—The lighthouse tender Shubrick sailed from Astoria on Monday evening, bound for the north. Before her return to San Francisco the Shubrick will touch at all the lighthouses and signal stations on the north west coast, to deliver the annual supplies.

RESERVED SEATS.—The sale of reserved seats for the Relief Concert to be given next Tuesday evening will commence on Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Reserved seats can be procured at Gray's music store without extra cost. Call early to avoid the crowd.

A want has been felt and expressed by physicians for a safe and reliable purgative. Such a want is now supplied in Parsons' Purgative Pills.

COMMON COUNCIL.

REGULAR MEETING, AUGUST 13, 1873.

The Common Council of the city of Portland met pursuant to ordinance. His Honor Mayor Henry Failing in the chair.

Present: W. S. Caldwell, Clerk; J. H. Lappeus, Chief of Police, by Captain J. R. Wiley, deputy; Councilmen Besser, Burton, Caywood, Hoyt, Lyon, Moreland, Russell and Story.

Absent—Councilman Hill.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and the special meeting of August 9th were read and approved.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, &C.

The petition of Mr Zeller for the refunding of part of the amount paid for licenses, he having been burned out, was laid on the table.

A communication from R. Williams stating the Council that the suit concerning certain Park blocks had been decided in favor of the city, and and that another suit concerning certain levee property had been decided adverse to the city, was read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

A communication from J. W. Chambers concerning the manner in which the bids were received for erecting the pest house and matters connected with the building of said house, was read and laid on the table.

A remonstrance signed by a large number of the property-owners in the Clay street and southern districts against the proposed construction of sewers in those districts was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The Chief Engineer made a report of the fire of August 2d and set forth the facts concerning the scarcity of water in such emergency, recommending the erection of two new engine houses and thanking the Fire Companies of Salem, Oregon City and Vancouver, and sundry individuals for aid and counsel during the fire. The report was read and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

The City Surveyor submitted a map of the proposed widening of First street, with the number of feet of land to be appropriated in each block from Yamhill to Caruthers street, which was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A similar report in reference to the widening of Second street, from Washington street to the Caruthers line was referred to the same Committee.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

The following claims against the city were ordered paid: J. H. Lappeus, board of city prisoners for the month of June, $400; W. S. Halpruner, repairs to street lamps, $158 59; H. H. Northrup, taking acknowledgment of deeds, $2 00.

The bill of Bellinger, Curry & Co., for advertising special meeting of the Council, $1 50, was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance, making an appropriation of $900 out of the general fund to refund moneys paid for licenses by persons doing business in the burnt district, was read a first and second time, rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

An ordinance, fixing the compensation of the Superintendent of Streets for a limited period at $175 per month, was read a first and second time, rule suspended, ordered read a third time and passed.

An ordinance, authorizing the construction of a cistern at the corner of Lowndsdale and Morrison streets, of the capacity of 20,000 gallons, was read a first and second time, rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

An ordinance authorizing a contract for repairs to engine houses Nos 1 and 2 at a cost of not more than $150 was read first and second time, rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

An ordinance, adopting the report of the City Surveyor in the matter of the lateral extension or widening of First street, was read a first and second time, rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

An ordinance, adopting the report of the City Surveyor in the matter of the lateral extension or widening of Second street, from the south line of Washington street to the Caruthers line, was read a first and second time and laid over under the rules.

An ordinance, legalizing the purchase of 1,000 feet of hose, was read a third time and passed.

An ordinance, making an appropriation out of the general fund for the payment of extraordinary expenses incident to the fire of Aug 2, 1873, was taken from the table, amended, read a second and third time, and passed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

That the Councilmen from each Ward be a committee from their respective Wards (the Mayor appointing the Chairman of each committee) to report at an early date upon the expediency of extending the fire limits. Each committee naming the boundaries of proposed extension of their own ward.

That upon the approval of the ordinance making an appropriation therefor, the Auditor be and is hereby directed to draw a warrant for two-thirds of the amount paid by any party for a license to do business, requiring a license during the third quarter of the fiscal year, whose place of business was destroyed by the fire of August 2, 1873, and cancel such license upon the application of the party holding the same.

That the Committee on Fire and Water have prepared immediately, plans and specifications for the rebuilding of the house of Protection Engine Co No 4, and the erection of a new house for Vigilance Hook and Ladder Co No 1, and to report the cost thereof.

That the Common Council, deeming it expedient to make a lateral extension or widen Second street from Washington to A street, the City Surveyor is hereby directed to make a survey, mark the boundaries, and make his report, with a plat of a widening of Second street between Washington street and A street by adding five feet to each side thereof.

The bill of sundry persons for work done on the pest house, was taken from the table and referred to the Board of Health.

The Auditor was instructed to draw a warrant in favor of the Superintendent of Streets for his salary for the month of July, on the approval of the ordinance fixing his compensation.

The Committee on Health and Police was instructed to prepare an ordinance, offering a proper reward for the arrest and conviction of incendiaries, or those sending letters threatening to burn the property of citizens, and report the same to the Council at its next meeting.

Councilman Caywood was granted leave of absence till the second regular meeting in October.

The President appointed as Chairman of the Committee on Fire Limits, in the First Ward Councilman Story, Second Ward Councilman Lyon, Third Ward Councilman Moreland.

On motion, the Council adjourned.

THE COURTS.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, J.—IN VACATION.

IN PROBATE.

In the matter of the guardianship of Mezaldus Fred, Oceana, Melvern and Robert Scott; Martha S. Bunnell, guardian; order of publication to next of kin, cited to appear in this court on the 8th of September to show cause why sale of real estate should not be made.

In the matter of the guardianship of Ida Bunnell; D. D. Bunnell, guardian; order of publication to next of kin citing them to appear in court and show cause why sale of real estate should not be made.

In the matter of the estate of Daniel Noonan, deceased; order appointing Catharine Noonan administratrix, bond filed in the sum of $2 50 and letters issued of administration.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The sale of 109 elegant oil paintings will be held at the Washington Guard Armory this morning at 10 o'clock, by Mr A. B. Richardson. A more magnificent collection of paintings was never offered for sale in the State. Rare bargains can be had as the paintings will doubtless be disposed of at a great sacrifice. Among the whole collection there is not one painting but what is a very meritorious work of art. The public are invited to call and examine for themselves. This opportunity to procure elegant paintings with which to adorn parlors and drawing rooms, will not be likely to occur soon again. It should by all means be improved.

REHEARSALS.—The orchestra which will furnish the music at the Relief Concert held a rehearsal last evening at the rooms of the Progress Club. A vocal rehearsal will be held this evening at the music store of W. K. Badger.

Laura Fair has at last settled up her accounts and she finds that it cost her $11,000 to shoot her latest victim.

The ponds of stagnant water on Front street, between D and F streets, send forth smells calculated to create disease. The water should be drawn off.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE PEOPLE'S PROTECTIVE ALLIANCE.

WHEREAS, Since the recent calamity of a disastrous fire has befallen the city of Portland, attempts have been made to connect this Alliance with the incendiarism of that occasion—

Now, therefore, we the members of said People's Protective Alliance denounce with indignation any effort to bring odium on this our organization through such unjust and wrongful attempts and declare such accusations to be utterly without foundation and unworthy the belief of right-minded people. We would respectfully repeat that we are peaceable well-disposed citizens, that there is nothing secret in our proceedings, that our meetings are at all times open to the press and the public.

Our opinions have been and are hereby publicly expressed that we are the advocates of free labor for American citizens. Our country has recently suffered too much to rid ourselves of the evils of slavery at home, to now submit to receive it from abroad—much less from pagan China. We seek by legitimate means and no other, through Congressional action, and the treaty making power of the nation, a modification of the provisions of the Burlingame treaty, and not, as has been stated, by the abrogation of commercial treaties with China or any other nation. While all civilized nation holds commercial treaties with China as well as the United States, they do not permit her pagan millions to settle like locusts to corrupt and devour the substance of their people. Neither shall we be intimidated or forego our peaceful efforts, nor cease to agitate until such a modification of the said Burlingame treaty is effected as shall relieve our citizens from the corrupting influence and presence of these degraded pests.

AMUSEMENTS.

Reed's panorama, a magnificent representation of the unrivaled scenic beauties of the Great Northwest, will be exhibited at Masonic Hall this evening for the first time. Having witnessed a previous exhibition of this panorama, we can reiterate all which have been said by the press and public in favor of its artistic merits and accurate, faithful adherence to nature. We heartily recommend it to public favor and patronage, and bespeak a crowded hall this evening.

Hurgren & Shindler have reopened in their former warehouse, the Lutheran Church, Fifth street, near the U. S. Custom House, where they will operate till a permanent business place is ready. They are prepared to fill orders for furniture and all kinds of bedding, including first-class hair mattresses and the celebrated woven wire mattress, children's perambulators, &c. &c. Being desirous of settling up their affairs speedily any one indebted to this firm is requested to call and give them the use of their means.

BUSINESS RESUMED.—D. H. Hendee, photographer, who was one of the losers by the late fire, is now fixed up and ready for action at the same old place—corner of First and Morrison streets. Give him a call. Prices to suit the times.

Why linger in blissful ignorance? Why do you wander about seeking a place where they keep the largest and finest stock of Summer Clothing? Why pay high prices for goods when the fact has been long established that the great firm of J. KOHN & Co., of Front street, sell Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods so cheap. They keep the best, they sell the cheapest and what more can be asked?

Some people may become excited over the "terminus" of the Northern Pacific Railroad on Puget Sound but it is not so with Beck & Waldman, corner Front and Washington streets, in the least, as they intend to pursue the usual course to their customers, and that is to sell goods at prices which will enable those with limited means to provide themselves with good clothing at a very small outlay of money. Parents should bring their children to this house for neat fitting suits.

Henry K. Bond, of Jefferson, Maine, was cured of spitting blood, soreness and weakness of the stomach, by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment internally.

Be true to your Teeth and they will be true to you. Never will you need false ones if you use the SOZODONT morning and evening. It imparts indestructibility to the enamel, keeps it white and spotless, and wonderfully improves the breath.

A YOUNG LADY BURNED TO DEATH WHILE WALKING ON THE RAILROAD TRACK.—On July 27th Miss Conroy, employed in the family of Mrs Boggs, Main avenue, Passaic, started to walk down the railroad track to see her sister who lives at Rutherford Park. While approaching Santiago Park three young men, who were behind her, noticed that she suddenly wheeled round and pressed the lower part of her dress. Flames at the same moment leaped up about her and in less than a second she was in a blaze from head to foot. The young men hurried to her assistance, and in their endeavors to save the girl two of them were badly burned. James Larkin rushed to the residence of Mr Schofield, the flag man at Santiago, and begged him to take Miss Conroy into the house. She was perfectly naked with the exception of her corset, and her whole body was burnt and blistered in a horrible manner. Schofield, it is said, refused, because his wife could not stand it, and the girl had to stand broiling in the sun till the proprietor of the bleachery hastened to her assistance with a carriage. Her sufferings were slightly alleviated by Mr Larkin, who plunged her into the railroad ditch. She was removed to her sister's home at Rutherford Park, and died.—N. Y. Times.

THE VICE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH.—Alluding to the reports concerning the illness of Vice President Wilson, the Boston Globe of the 1st inst. says: "It is true that Mr Wilson had a paralytic shock last spring, caused by overwork during the fall campaign of 1872, but the shock was very slight. Mr Wilson's first attack being at the breakfast table, where he suddenly found himself unable to command his tongue and lips. He at no time lost his consciousness, but on the contrary, not comprehending the nature of the disease, took a walk to the cemetery, directly after the attack, to try and throw off the strange sensation. Not succeeding in this, he at once sought medical aid, and since then has gradually been improving. The one thing needful to him is rest, and if he does not attempt to complete his work, The Rise and Fall of Slave Power in America, and of course he will not take such a suicidal course, it is hoped that he will be able to resume his duties in December as President of the Senate. Mr Wilson has at no time lost the use of his voice, although, consequent upon the falling of the right side of his face caused by the shock, his tones are somewhat thick and husky. Still if his face be restored to its former condition, as is expected, his voice will be as clear as ever."

A RESPONSIBLE BIRD.—The head of the Post office Department of the Daily Graphic balloon is on exhibition at the Domestic Sewing Machine Company's establishment, corner of Broadway and Union square. It is a beautiful bird, of distinguished pedigree, and is decorated with a gold anklet to commemorate its tried prowess. An exemplary flight will be performed to-day, commencing at 3 P. M., from the cupola of the "Domestic" building, and ending, with the kind permission of the birds of prey, at Riverdale.—N. Y. Times, August 17th.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 13.—The Democracy of the city divided squarely and fairly to-night. Both municipal and legislative conventions met. In the latter Mr Rose moved at the outset for the appointment of a committee of three to confer with a similar committee from the other convention to see if they could not agree upon a plan of joint Legislative nominations. In support of his motion he said that it could not be disguised that there was great dissatisfaction amongst Democrats relative to Legislative nominations. It was asserted by many that the Legislative Convention was controlled for the railroad company. While he did not believe that such was the fact, still he desired if possible to pour oil on troubled waters, to promote harmony. The motion led to G. D. Gluyas' delegate threatening to resign. He had been accused of being the instrument of the railroad, and made the Jonah of the Convention. Several members implored him to say no more about resigning. He said no more but kept his seat. Dr Gates, President of the Convention, would not allow Rose to pour oil on the troubled waters, ruling his motion out of order. F. G. Edwards, disgusted by the fate of Rose's motion, moved to adjourn sine die.

Pending motion to proceed with nominations a messenger came from the Municipal Convention across the hall, with the startling announcement that the Convention had just resolved to go ahead and make a straight Legislative ticket, including Supervisors, and School Directors. Several delegates exclaimed, "Let them nominate, we will go out too." They went on and are now voting for candidates for Assembly. No nominations.

A boy aged 15, named A. Shugerman, residing on Sixth street, near Howard, employed in the sugar factory on Battery, near Sacramento, fell through the hatchway of a store to-day, a distance of 16 feet, sustaining serious internal injuries, besides fracturing the right arm below the elbow. He was taken home, where he now lies in a critical condition.

Jack Sheppard is still walking his 1,000 mile feat at the City Gardens. He completed his 250th mile at 6 P. M. No uneasiness yet.

CHICO, August 13.—Hon. Geo. B. Perkins was unanimously nominated by the joint delegation of Butte, Plumas and Lassen counties, in Convention at Quincy, Monday, 10th inst., as joint Senator. Much enthusiasm prevailed.

SALINAS CITY, August 13.—The Democrats of Monterey county held their Convention at the Court House. D. S. Gregory, Chairman; H. V. Moorehouse, Secretary. The following ticket was nominated: Assembly, J. Tully, of San Benito; Sheriff, J. B. Smith, Monterey; Collector, Manuel Antonia Castro, New Republic; Treasurer, B. F. Nixon, Salinas City.

STOCKTON, August 13.—About 1 o'clock this morning W. F. Smith's barn, situated on the corner of San Joaquin and Poplar streets, was totally destroyed by fire. A valuable horse, in the barn at the time of the fire, was burned to a cinder. Loss estimated at $1,000. No insurance.

The testimony elicited to-day in the trial of Geo. N. Bennett, charged with the murder of J. P. De Wilkins, is of a character which precludes its publication. The District Court room was crowded throughout the day.

A new daily paper, the Courier, will make its appearance to-morrow morning.

Putting Down Rebellion.

When the stomach rebels against food and obstinately refuses to digest sufficient aliment to keep the body well nourished, it can only be compelled to resume its natural duties by a wholesome tonic. The powerful alkaloids so often administered for this purpose are not wholesome. They are for the most part deadly poisons, and even when taken in very small quantities, re-act violently upon the nervous system. Not so Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This salutary combination of vegetable juices embracing the finest invigorants and alteratives which the botanical kingdom affords operates mildly, steadily and beneficially upon the digestive, secretive and discharging organs. In dyspepsia, billious affections, nervous complaints, periodic fevers, chronic constipation, bodily weakness, mental depression, languor, etc., etc., and the various disabilities incident to old age and premature decay, its effects are so wonderful that to be comprehended they must be witnessed or experienced.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY ORGANS and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings and purifies them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, &c.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 400 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful yet harmless febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles.

TO MATE IN THREE MOVES

Crimson the heart of the sea-coal fire
Beside and I in the ruddy glow
Her in other roads and the [illegible] grands re
Dreams of his youth in the [illegible]

Quiet and warmth and love in the room—
Now or never [illegible] to press
Where the hyacinths shed their sweet perfume
We play two games—one love, one chess

Queen of the red and queen of my heart
When will you wear my golden ring?
Flushing her cheeks the roses start
Slyly she murmurs "Check to your king"

My pawns advance press on and die
[illegible] in lays oblique
My brave knights fall but I can't tell why
My heart grows strong as my game grows weak

Darling, answer me—lift your eyes
Your [illegible], and the time approves
Speak, [illegible] with a glad surprise
You'll be mated in three more moves

Then let this be one—and her dimpled hand
Looks all the fairer for plain gold ring
In vain I rally my scattered band
As again she checks my poor lost king

Nearer her gold brown curls to mine
The [illegible] men seem in a dark eclipse
Check!—shall I die and make no sign
And I steal a kiss from her ripe red lips

Mate!—and her joyous eyes proclaim
Who wins by love and who by chess
And the pride of my life is the gold a game
That was lost when I won my darling Bess
—St. Nicholas's for August.

AN ECCENTRIC KING

THE LAST PERFORMANCE OF THE KING OF BAVARIA

[illegible]

The [illegible] of the young King Louis II, of Bavaria, have of late become such that the question whether or not the present representative of the House of Wittelsbach is in sane, is more anxiously agitated at Munich and especially at the Imperial Court of Berlin than ever before. The former curious freaks of the King have all been forgotten, his expenditure of 90,000,000 for imitating at his castle of Hohenschwangen, the hanging gardens of Queen Semiramis, his attempt to build a pyramid, like that of King Cheops on the famous Lechfeld, and his numerous flirtations with royal princesses, whom he jilted most [illegible] to look for [illegible] heart and hand.

But that which engrosses at the present time the attention of the good burghers of Munich, is the singular mania of the young King in [illegible] the [illegible] affairs. It is a well-known fact that King Louis II looks upon the theatre as the prime source of popular education, [illegible] Frederick von Schiller and Moliere, the two dramatists with out whom the [illegible] could never have acquired its [illegible] eminence, and that he, the Wittelsbach ruler himself has written a play which he not only, as might be expected, values very highly, but which, in his opinion is a combination of all that is [illegible] worthy both in Schiller and Moliere. This wonderful play is entitled The Fan of the Marchioness and there exists but a single manuscript copy of it. It contains [illegible] drine verses. That is all that is known about it. No [illegible] ever cast his eye upon it, but [illegible] when it performed on the stage, and yet the whole company of the Royal Theater at Munich know it by heart, and the play has moreover, been [illegible] of a dozen times [illegible] and decorations such as have [illegible]

The explanation of this [illegible] is that King Louis II is a man of the most retiring [illegible]. Most of the time he lives in utter [illegible]. The pomp and splendor of royalty are [illegible] to him, and, rather than appear at a gala review of the army, he will plead [illegible] bury himself in the Alpine retreats of the Bavarian Highlands. The [illegible] his favorite pastime but to witness public performances, when everybody rises from his seat and bows to him as soon as he makes his appearance, is so distasteful to him that for years he has not set foot in his own theater at Munich, except on the occasions [illegible]

About four months ago the actors of the Royal [illegible] received from the manager of the [illegible] the [illegible] of a play entitled "The Fan of the Marchioness" whose author he said, wished to remain unknown, but which was to be [illegible] immediately. A week afterward the first rehearsal took place, and a few days later the actors and [illegible], who were to appear in it [illegible] to play [illegible] The most rigorous secrecy was [illegible] them and immediate [illegible] who should talk about the [illegible].

When [illegible] word of such a theatrical performance [illegible] all [illegible], and when the curtain went up they vainly looked for an [illegible] to [illegible] their performance but a young man [illegible] his [illegible] face adorned with a small, well trimmed mustache. The young man was seated in the left proscenium box and [illegible] to follow the [illegible] with [illegible] attention. [illegible] Neither of them had ever before [illegible] under so singular, not to say discouraging circumstances [illegible] there was none. The curtain [illegible] a dark and empty house. The only spectator [illegible] was to all appearances highly interested, but not even once did he clap his hands [illegible], just as the neighboring clock of St Catherine's Church struck 4 the play was over and the actors went home. This singular performance has been repeated since then a dozen [illegible]. The actors are almost in a state of revolt, for it [illegible] unnatural for them to play to no [illegible] without marks of applause or disapproval, simply before one young man, who [illegible] by his royal prerogatives in a very curious manner.

GOD'S WRATH IN THE CHOLERA AND EARTHQUAKES

Last Sunday, in replying to the address of the deputation of the Pontifical tribunals and prelacy, the Pope, after recognizing the love and [illegible] of the prelacy for the Roman Church, said:

"I think you will have [illegible] how God, [illegible] as a pomp, so to say, of his [illegible] in the many scourges with which he strikes this poor Italy. First of all [illegible] which [illegible] days and does not [illegible] but [illegible] not relieve, and [illegible] boldly [illegible] entering into houses to [illegible], and into cottages to oppress [illegible] viciously into the [illegible] and rummages everywhere to annex [illegible] rich, and really to take possession of everything apparent and visible. Meanwhile there is a sensible augmentation in the number [illegible] to which after the [illegible] Porta Pia, God seems to have [illegible] a free course as if to signify that the tearing of Rome from the Pontiffs has increased and dilated the kingdom of desolation and [illegible]. The Tiber began with its inundations, which were followed by other more disastrous [illegible] in many parts of the peninsula. Volcanic fires [illegible] grievous damage in the south of Italy [illegible] has appeared which [illegible] the tender age, and has reaped [illegible] victims, perhaps because God has [illegible] to preserve a great number of children from moral exile [ne malitia mutaret intellectum eorum] thus [illegible] the number of the [illegible] in Paradise. In many points there have [illegible] devastating hailstorms, the Asiatic [illegible] presents itself as a warning so that all may prepare themselves by penitence [ut fugiant a facie arcus] and as if all this were not a sufficient motive for turning to God. God himself looks at the earth with an indignant eye and makes it tremble [facit eam tremere]. There is no doubt that all these chastisements descend on account of the enormous injustice committed by those who made an abuse of force. I will not say that two of these chastisements were represented by the two sections right and left—one the cholera and the other an earthquake—but I will say that for their sins especially so many chastisements have fallen on Italy and particularly on Rome striking all indistinctly and perhaps hardening the hearts of those. But keeping open the eyes of the oppressed to turn them towards God."

After this eminently Papal but not at all cheerful view of material events the Pontiff went on to exhort the clergy not to co-operate in any manner in calling down the wrath of God and to be ever on the watch, distrusting their adversaries even when proffering words of conciliation and concord.—Rome Cor. N. Y. World.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California 11s 10d@ 12s; Club 12s 1d@12s 6d.

The movement on foot in our city started principally by those who suffered large losses in the fire of the 2d instant is one which may yet result in very material advantage to our city in a financial point of view. The plan proposed as we understand it is to place a proposition before the capitalists of the Eastern cities who are loaning their money at from 5 to [illegible] per cent per annum to transfer some of it to this market at the same rate. The facts are to be collected and placed before these capitalists and they are to be induced if possible to comply with the wishes of our people in this respect, not as a matter of charity, but of business, and the funds obtained are not to be used merely to feed the hungry and clothe the naked but to rebuild the desolated portion of our city and re establish in business those who have lost so heavily that without such help they cannot go ahead again. Those who are foremost in this matter we have satisfied ourselves are correct and are taking no steps which would not have been perfectly [illegible] had the fire not occurred and large [illegible] been contemplated for which the capital in the country already was not sufficient. Their real aim is to draw funds toward our city to rebuild the [illegible] portion; they want to [illegible] this for a term of [illegible], and at a low rate. Their movement in calling to their assistance the aid and council of financiers and capitalists in our midst, is certainly a wise one and though their meetings may have been tempered with some feeling against those who were seeking in the best and speediest way to relieve the immediate and [illegible] wants of those who had lost all by the fire their main object is one which ought to receive a hearty concurrence in every mind.

Many of those whose buildings were burned could secure loans at home to rebuild but at the moderate rents prevailing in that section of the city the returns would scarcely pay the high interest at which all the surplus funds now in our market can be placed. Hence their desire to secure a large loan at present Eastern rates on long time with which they can build and hope to meet with such returns as will enable them to repay the loan and retain their land. Notwithstanding the [illegible] has gone out [illegible] a few, that the [illegible] and the "Relief Committee" are in some way opposing each other nothing of the kind is true. Each have their special and well defined objects, and both [illegible] credit for the earnest [illegible] with which they have entered upon the work they respectively propose to do.

The number of National Banks in the United States at the close of April was 1,962, a gain of 118. This includes the gold note banks of which there is only one outside of California. The capital stock of these 1,962 banks is given at $487,891,000, a gain of $20,000,000 during the year. Dividing this gain among the new banks started during the interval shows an average of $160,000 to each. The amount of National Bank notes outstanding at the close of April was $338,164,000, an increase of $12,800,000 as compared with the [illegible] year. The amount of loans and discounts is given at $903,000,000, a gain of $67,000,000 in the year. The amount of [illegible] held was $[illegible],000, [illegible] 414,000 for the same time last year. The banks report a surplus fund of $115,805,000 and $52,415,000 undivided profits, a gain of $11,000,000 and $6,000,000 respectively as compared with the same time last year.

The Bank of England returns for July 16th show £26,101,000 notes in circulation, a decrease of £30,000 as against the previous week's report and £2[illegible] bullion in both departments an increase of £38,600.

Wheat and Crop Report.

The July Agricultural Report just received reports an improvement in winter wheat but a decline in the prospects of spring wheat on account of unseasonable weather in some quarters and insect enemies in others.

The [illegible] yield of oats declined during June in New England the Middle and Northwestern States, except Wisconsin. It was enhanced in all of the Gulf States except Mississippi.

Winter rye improved in Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, North Carolina, Mississippi, Texas, Arkansas, Michigan, Illinois and [illegible] in Georgia, and declined in all the other [illegible]. The [illegible] rye was below the average in all the [illegible] (95) is found in [illegible]

Winter barley [illegible] declined in the South west where heavy rains prevailed.

The late winter [illegible] upon the fruit [illegible] is more extensive than was apparent at the last report. Vast numbers of [illegible] killed. The condition of grapes ranged from 81 in California to 127 in Nebraska; 100 representing the average.

The Colorado beetle has extended its ravages east [illegible] being reported for the first time in several counties in New York. It [illegible] the West but farmers had learned in many counties how to destroy it effectually.

The maximum condition of the crop (111) was found in Georgia, and the minimum (76) in Delaware.

English Wheat Market.

English advices under date of July 18th report the tone of the wheat trade as decidedly better. Two cargoes of Californian had been taken for the Continent the sailing [illegible] being at that date 61s [illegible] quarter, for the United Kingdom 59s 6d; 60s was demanded. At Mark Lane [illegible] wheat was in short supply and American was quoted dearer with a good demand. There had been frequent rains in England and France which would no doubt cause considerable damage to the crops in various localities. Although favorable accounts were still received from some sections of the country the general belief seemed to be that prices would soon be the turn dearer.

The imports of wheat into the United Kingdom during the week ended July 12th were 1,440,506 cwt, against 99[illegible] cwt. in the previous week. The deliveries of home-grown amounted to 24,678 quarters against 34,976 quarters in the corresponding time last year. The quantity of foreign wheat on passage for the United Kingdom was computed at about 1,067,210 quarters.

During the week ending July 18th there were heavy rains [illegible] the United Kingdom greatly interfering with the gathering of the hay crop and it was feared that the aggregate yield would be under an average. Robert Makin & Sons private circular of the same date says, "The wheat crop in some parts of the south and of the eastern counties is not so favorably reported of and in the midland districts and northwards there seems to be much irregularity in the stage of growth and consequently in the period of maturity. Finer weather is specially required. The English harvest is usually gathered this month and the present is therefore an important turning point as much depends on the character of the weather during the gathering of the grain. There is no fear but what England will want all the wheat we can spare and the only question is in reference to the price."
